“Your presentation was just what we needed to get the conversation started. It has truly opened doors for continued discussion. I love the statement you made, “No conversation about us without us.” It will be what we do in our program moving forward.”

Julie Craig
DeKalb County Community Gardens

RAMP is a non-profit, non-residential Center for Independent Living (CIL) that emulates the Independent Living Philosophy with a mission to build an inclusive community that encourages individuals with disabilities to reach their full potential. RAMP is the only Center for Independent Living that serves Boone, DeKalb, Stephenson, and Winnebago Counties as well as the only agency providing advocacy AND independent living services for persons with disabilities. We provide five core services: Information & Referral, Education & Advocacy, Peer Support, Independent Living Skills Training, and Transition Services. More than 51% of our staff and board have a disability. As part of our services, we provide training for organizations and people with regard to any disability needs they may have.

Disability Awareness (customized by entity/industry): General information, etiquette, accommodations/ADA compliance, and language usage surrounding disability. Can be tailored by entity; currently customized for law enforcement/first responders, judicial system & court personnel, childcare and youth workers, and election workers

Disability Awareness: ADA Compliant Work Environment: Implementing a disability-accommodating work environment, including ADA compliance, communication, job design, and culture

Ableism Awareness: Defining, identifying, understanding, and eradicating discrimination against disability, known as ableism

Accessible Social Media: Creating social media materials that are available to all, including closed captions, image descriptions, alt text, and more

Independent Living Philosophy: Overview & history, differences from the medical model, and strategies in action

Intersection of Race & Disability: Healthcare/Education/Employment/Criminal Justice/Mental Health—five unique trainings that examine history, current events, and strategies to move forward and form connections between communities

Leading Multiple Generations: Examining multiple generations' characteristics, strengths, views on disability, and how to work together effectively

Poverty Response: Discussing poverty through the lenses of scarcity, trauma, general roots, and disability

Service Animal Awareness: Definition, general rules, and frequently asked questions surrounding service animals

Talking to Children About Disability: Strategies for engaging with children, their siblings, and peers surrounding disability and its implications

Understanding Microaggressions: definitions, types, classifications, and effects as well as how to eliminate discrimination as individuals in general and organizations as a whole
