What is Project SEARCH

Project SEARCH is a unique, business led, one year school to work transition program that takes place entirely in the workplace. The selected Student interns will work in three internships over the course of the Academic year in combination with classroom instruction, goal setting, career exploration, and hands-on training through worksite rotations. Each student intern works with a team that includes their family, an instructor, a department mentor, rehabilitation counselor and Employment Specialist to create their employment goal and to support the student during their transition from school to work.

History

In 1996, while working as the Director of the Emergency Department at Cincinnati Children's Hospital Medical Center, Erin Riehle was frustrated with finding employees for entry-level jobs that involved restocking supplies. While working to identify a solution to eliminating the high turnover rates, Cincinnati Children's had adopted a major diversity initiative. Erin wondered if people with disabilities could fill the jobs she had available. Not knowing anyone with a disability, she turned to local disability organizations and asked if her idea was possible. Together with these organizations, the idea of filling a handful of jobs in Cincinnati Children's Emergency Department evolved into a comprehensive program model Project SEARCH. Project SEARCH has grown from one original program site at Cincinnati Children's to over 600 programs across 47 states and 10 countries. 25,976 people served since 2010!
